Community Council Takes Action On L. I. R. R. Tragedies

Resolution Urging Reorganization To Go To Constituent Groups

The Community Council at its meeting Monday night in the Municipal Building adopted resolutions calling on the proper authorities to take steps to see that conditions are remedied so that the two tragedies which have occurred on the Long Island Rail Road within less than a year are not repeated. Copies of the resolution are to be sent to the organizations constituting the Council and they in turn will take such action as they deem fit.

The resolutions were presented by Homer J. Harris and explained by Edwin J. Freedman. They were adopted on motion of Russell E. Helling, and read as follows:

"We hereby declare that the tragedy resulting from the two L.I.R.R. wrecks within the space of less than one year in which so many of our neighbors and friends were killed and injured must not be forgotten.

"Investigations, resolutions and blame fixing are not enough and cannot take the place of concrete action to avert further tragedies of this nature.

"Our memories must not be short. At all cost in the excitement of great world problems, we must not permit the present impossible situation of the L. I. R. R. to continue.

"We demand thorough reorganization of the railroad to insure that proper facilities be furnished immediately to insure safe, secure and dependable transportation.

"We urge each of the constituent organizations to write the Governor and our State Senators and Assemblymen urging the enactment of legislation enabling the state by proper authority to operate and manage the railroad.

"We urge all of our constituent organizations to write to Congressman Leonard W. Hall and U.S. Senator Irvin M. Tamm and Herbert H. Lehman urging immediate action by the Inter-State Commerce Commission forcing installation of necessary safety equipment on the L.I.R.R. to guarantee that our public officials do not forget this problem of the L.I.R.R. in the press of later or greater problems. We hereby create a permanent committee of five members representing the constructive action designed to prevent further disasters on the L. I. R. R."

A forum on the Senior Citizens Group activities being conducted Mondays and Tuesdays in the American Legion Dugout was conducted by John P. DeLorme, chairman of the movement. Mrs. L. S. Yudin told how the group was functioning. Mrs. Arthur Harrigan spoke on its possibilities. Mrs. Elizabeth F. Kelly told of the programs of similar movements in Nassau County and the country at large. Mrs. Philip Bloom appealed for those present to call the attention of the people to the advantages being offered by the movement.

An appeal for funds to provide equipment to enable the Council to conduct classes in various subjects also was made.

Mrs. Harold W. Battin, past president, presided in the absence of President Samuel L. Israel.

The Freeport Republican Club will have its annual Christmas party for needy children and the sons and daughters of the members in the Legion Dugout next Thursday night. Entertainment will be provided by a magician and Santa Claus will be present with his reindeer to distribute presents. President Coleman J. 'Spirit of Freeport' Crew Writes Thanks For Big Time of Men Here

By Lieut. Joseph R. Taylor
Bombardier, "Spirit of Freeport" B-29
March "Air Force Base," Dec. 1—It's more than 30,000 miles as the B-29 flies from Okinawa to Freeport, Long Island, but well worth the trip.

In fact, the sixteen of us who ran the "Spirit of Freeport" B-29 Superfortress are agreed that each of us will fly many times that distance before we meet the equal of our hospitality we received by that small but dynamic Eastern city.

The folks who bought our bomber treated us all like long lost sons. We arrived back here panting but mighty pleased after five of the fullest and most thrilling days we ever spent.

The last thing I clearly remember was the hilarity of watching sixteen men inside our plane tumbling over one another changing from flying coveralls to blue uniforms just before we landed.

From the time of our landing and the parade—which was probably the first and last time each of us will ever have his own convertible—each thing that happened seemed better than the last.

The public reception, the War Bond gifts, football game, dances, dinner parties and cocktail parties—each brimming with hospitality and kindness—bowed us over.

The trips to New York were the first to most of us. We certainly enjoyed meeting Mrs. Roosevelt and were thrilled by Miss Jinx Faulkenburg. Luncheon at Sardi's was wonderful and Guy Lombardo and his organization were certainly in "high pitch."

So many people did so many things for us, we're all at a loss. No man just whom we should thank. So may we just say "thanks" in this story to each and every one of you who had anything to do with the five days of festivities in our honor.

We hope that we can make you just as proud of the "Spirit of Freeport" B-29 in the future as you have been in the past.

And don't be surprised if some of the 16 honorary citizens of Freeport "come back" there, some citizenship in a city whose name will always be for us a synonym for hospitality.

Honor Charter and Early Members At Alpha D of A 50th Anniversary

Mrs. Alfrida Cameron, of Bennington, Vt., the last survivor of the 34 charter members, Mrs. Elizabeth Raynor, a member for 46 years, and Mrs. Rebecca Melvin for 42 years, were the guests of honor at a dinner marking the 50th anniversary of Alpha Council, D. of A., Tuesday night in the Elks clubhouse. Eighty-six members and guests attended.

Mrs. Raynor briefly sketched the early history of the council. She said it was organized on Dec. 4, 1900, on a very stormy night, by Mrs. Alice Toombs, who became its first councillor. Three years later Mrs. Toombs also organized a council of the Sons and Daughters of Liberty, she added, drawing some of the members away from Alpha.

A sewing circle was organized also, which raised funds for the council. However, when some objection was voiced to the group, it went out on its own and is still in existence as the Helping Hand Sewing Circle. At the conclusion of her talk, Mrs. Raynor presented a jewel to Mrs. Cameron, who said she had not been of much assistance to the council since she had lived in Vermont for 34 years.

Meetings were held originally in Odd Fellows Hall on Merrick rd., and later in the Hub Building at Main st., and what is now Sunrise Highway. The present meeting place is Junior Order Hall.

Other guests of the evening were State Outside Sentinel Mrs. Helen Raynor, Mrs. Elizabeth Pettigrew, national representative, and Mrs.

Join a Winning Team -- Civil Defense

Everybody likes to be on a winning team. One can imagine what satisfaction there was among the members of the Freeport High School football team at the close of each game as the number of victories mounted until the end of the schedule when the grid stars could look back on an undefeated season.

But the Red Devils do not constitute the only winning team in Freeport. The Civil Defense organization, the Red Cross and the municipal departments made up a winning team in the recent storm accompanied by high gales. Cyril C. Ryan, director of Civil Defense, is anxious to have everyone in Freeport on his team. There is something everyone can do, even the boys and girls of the community.

There are opportunities for engineers and those in the construction line to join with the engineering division headed by Walter J. Pope. Then there is the evacuation section directed by Milton Danziger which did so nobly with the aid of the firemen headed by Chief Robert N. Kinsey and the police under the leadership of Chief Peter Elar. Air Raid Wardens with Richard A. Hungerford as chief, are needed to complete the quota in every section of the village, and William S. Hughes, principal of the Seaman ave. school, is directing this division of the organization.

So why not get aboard the band wagon? Get an application blank at Civil Defense headquarters in the Municipal Building, fill it out, indicating in what branch of the service you would like to participate, and have the satisfaction of joining in a worthy cause. With the situation in the Orient becoming as serious as it is and the prospect that firestorms may erupt at some other section of the world at any time, everyone should be prepared for the most serious emergency. And an adequate well-trained Civil Defense set-up is the best agency to meet the situation on the local plane. Join up!

Exchange Picks Ron Ulip As Youth of the Month

Ronald Ulip, 187 Moody ave., star of the undefeated Freeport High School football team was honored yesterday at a luncheon of the Freeport Exchange Club having been chosen as the youth of the month. As a student his scholastic record has been most satisfactory; in addition, his athletic achievements have been most outstanding. He has been a three-year letter man. As co-captain of the football team, he was leading scorer on the team and a second high scorer in the county. His ability as a baseball player also is well known and he was outfielder and catcher on last year's team.

Ronald is well liked by his fellow students, and has all the qualifications of a fine youth. William B. "Bully" Meyer, chairman of the nominating committee, submitted the following slate on which action will be taken next Wednesday: Selwin R. Shook, for president; Walter J. Nichols, and Eugene S. Wells, vice-presidents; Russell E. Hotelling, recording secretary; John J. Randall, 3d, treasurer; Joseph T. Callaghan, financial secretary; Emil J. Fenger, Dr. David P. Jachemer and M. Burton Southard, members of the Board of Control for two years; and Dr. Morris H. Rossman, for one year.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Without or with offense to friends or foes,
I sketch your world exactly as it goes—Byron

Editor's Note: Due to the importance of the international situation, and particularly the Korean conflict which has affected every American home, the usual type column will not appear in this issue this week. Instead we are privileged to print excerpts from letters describing eye-witness impressions of the Korean fight.

These letters were written by FRANCIS J. CASTLE, Red Cross Field Director in Korea for more than a year, to his mother, Mrs. W. E. Castle of 639 Ogden Drive, Los Angeles. They were submitted by, and are printed with the permission of, WILLIAM E. CASTLE of 7 Wallace Street.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN KOREA
August 27, 1950
They forget that some men have had to run leaving all their personal equipment—not just once but several times. The chaplains have absolutely nothing but the clothes on their backs and what is in their pockets. Father Kapann is smoking a pipe made out of bamboo—People are a kick. Don't know how much clothing they wear in the winter, but they don't wear much now.

As I sit here and look across the valley at the setting sun shining on the mountains, the east is very beautiful. If we could forget the war and eliminate the enmity and filth of the people and the towns, this country might be fun to visit. Jets overhead! P-51's. I hope God guides them to their target. That may sound wrong but indeed the chaplains over here carry guns. Guess we of the Red Cross are the only non-combatants. Did I tell you that I try to keep Chaplain Kapann supplied with clean clothing? He comes in a week at the front and I have clean fatigues and underwear ready for him. I wash—or try to wash—his soiled things. He rides a bicycle along the front lines. It's a sight to see him riding a bicycle with a pipe in his mouth and a rifle on his back and no doubt the Host under his shirt. He carries carries absolutely nothing but what he can put in his pockets.

That clipping you sent about Taegu is nothing but a pack of lies. A few facts doctored up. The North Koreans did drop a few shells into Taegu but did little damage as they missed the target. As for the people leaving the town—refugees have been going through Taegu for weeks but they come from all over Korea. All roads in this area are crowded with people. They buried their cherished possessions when they thought the North Koreans were going to get in. What they are now taking out of the ground looks like junk to us.

September 8, 1950
As you know by the papers we've made a very fast move up to the 38th parallel. We are now at Kaesung—at the parallel. We made so many one-night stands, long hauls through incredible dust etc., that we are worn out. Communications of all kinds seem to be suspended and mail nonexistent. We have been eating C-4 rations for days due to the fact that supplies could not keep up with the forward movement. It is expected that our supplies will be moved to Seoul and even that is an awful trip from here. Over two rivers with nothing but temporary bridges. Looks like we'll have to fight north of the 38th parallel. We all want to get out of here before the cold weather begins. The people in town are trying to be very nice to us. They bring in eggs, fifteen cents each. Right now the yen is 2500 for a dollar or 100 for 1/2 cent! Haven't had time to look around the town. Seoul was a shambles. The North Koreans killed thousands of civilians in Seoul but thousands upon thousands were left to clog the narrow roads as we moved north. They were going both ways—north and south—where there was no room for them. As we passed through the towns they lined the streets shouting: "Banzai!" and raised their arms over their heads.

Then signs appeared reading: WELCOME U. N. FORCES. They always divide the word welcome and despite the fact that they use the term UN Forces they decorate the signs with the American flag. We could see where certain signs in Korean—had been covered in red ink with signs of joy at our arrival. They had been previously used to WELCOME the North Koreans. The Japs sure have the Indian sign on the Koreans. Of course, they were here for forty years. The Koreans hate the Japs.

September 20, 1950
In a letter Cats mentioned the fact that it is difficult for us to understand the Asiatic mind. She is so right! Especially when their minds are poisoned with Communistic propaganda. Recent prisoners taken told us they were promised land when they fought as far as Kumbon. When they reached there they were told a mistake had been made and they would have to fight to Taegu. No doubt the Reds would have come back with that line until they reached Fusan. Of course that is the line that Seoul City Sue has been harping on for some time. She tells how grateful the Korean people south of the 38th parallel are for the "Democratic Peoples' Land Reform." She goes on to say how many people have been given extra land to work and how in gratitude for this extra land they have "pledged" to raise extra crops, etc. etc.

In this country of no machinery, a man can work only just so much without the aid of a machine. He has to work with a couple of women in his household to pull the plough there is only just so much he can do. Despite the fact they work from sun-up to sun-down seven days a week, after the rice is planted and irrigated and a few vegetables put in, he has nothing to do but sit on his haunches and smoke, eat, go home, drink the native apple brandy and begot children. With a little rice, a place to sleep, a few scraps of clothing, the Korean is happy. Now with the Red giving him more land than he can work, he is "pledged" to raise extra stuff for the government. Seoul City Sue reads gratitude for Stalin's help and thanking him by working harder to make extra war materials for the People's Army. Her broadcasts have become so uninteresting that the GIs do not listen to it any more.

There is a young child who hangs around our camp—he's about 6 yrs. old—clothed in cast-off and out down GI fatigues. He talks very good English—also Japanese and Korean. He had a cheap, plastic medal of the blessed Virgin around his neck. I asked him what it was and he said: "Madonna Ichebon." Number one mother—Ichbon means many number one; Of course, the GIs have made him fast as paint. Another kid works in our S-4 section. All he does is to tell the other Koreans what to do. He gets his instructions from the man in charge. Although sixteen years old he looks about ten. He does nothing but relay instructions and is getting very fresh, too. He learned English at a mission school when he was in the back of the head. There seemed to be no hesitation on the part of the GIs. They didn't even have their hands tied. I contend that it might be better to keep them in the prisoner rather than let the Koreans shoot them as we could expect no better for our boys' lives captured by the North Koreans.

Geological Exhibit Displayed at Library

From now until the Christmas holidays the geological collection of Ray T. Brannan of East Hempstead is being exhibited at the Freeport Memorial Library.

Mr. Brannan, to whom geology is a hobby, found these curious specimens such as prehistoric horses' teeth, and an orthoceras while traveling with expeditionary groups of the Museum of Natural History and later while in the Navy during World War II. His trips with the Museum took him to several continents and to places of special interest to natural scientists. In addition to three South American countries, Mr. Brannan has been to Mexico, the lost city of Yucatan, New Zealand, Australia and the East Coast of Africa. While in the Navy, Mr. Brannan found beach agate, coral and petrified marine life on islands of the Pacific Ocean. Mr. Brannan has given lectures on his collection, one of the largest on Long Island for school children and other interested groups.

The library hours during which the exhibit may be seen are Monday-Thursday-Friday, 9 A.M. to 9 P.M. and Tuesday-Wednesday-Saturday 9 A.M. to 7 P.M.

Man's Delight in Destruction Used In Naval Training, Rotarians Hear

Emphasis placed on destruction is one of the ways of putting across the modified courses of instruction used in the Navy, Commander Robert A. Noe, an instructor in the Special Devices Center Bureau of Officers of Naval Research at Fort Washington, told the members of the Rotary Club at their supper in the Elks clubhouse Thursday night.

He explained that amusement and competition were other factors used for the same purpose. Commander Noe, said man is by nature not constructive but destructive. As an example he cited the case of efforts to make studying gunnery training attractive to the Naval recruits by availing of technical names. One member of the staff suggested that they "shoot ducks" not literally but figuratively, but the idea did not possess the necessary appeal.

Therefore a group from the faculty visited Coney Island and stopped at one of the shooting galand this creates the need for competition, while everyone likes to enjoy himself creating the need for amusement.

He told of a student who watched his mates pouring nickels into pin-ball machines suggested some idea of the kind might work at the school. The suggestion was developed and now during a quiz the student gets a question, puts a coin into the machine and if his answer is right a bright red light flashes up. If it doesn't, he is more careful next time.

Asserting that 70 percent of the things done by men are automatic, leaving 30 percent for which there is need of inspiration, the better things in life, the commander said the Navy was just getting into "Spiritual Engineering." He said this was not necessarily to develop religious matters, desirable as that might be, but a spirit de coque.

Commander Noe said it took nine months to develop a recruit from the office, a farm or elsewhere into a good fighter. He described mechanical devices used as substitutes for actual flying in an effort to reduce the number of fatalities in training. He also told of methods he used in South America in teaching illiterate natives, which he said were not good pedagogy but produced results. He commented that it is easier to teach illiterates than sophisticated youths, as they are happier to learn and one gets satisfaction out of giving them instruction.

The Port Washington Institution is headed by Capt. J. R. Richberger, U.S.A. The speaker was introduced by Robert B. Paterson.

Red Cross Offers Aid To Disaster Victims

Still Ready to Assist Families Hit in Rail Crash; Ensuing Storm

The Nassau Red Cross still is ready to aid anyone or any family in the county stricken by the twin disasters that rocked Long Island in a space of three days, Franklin S. Rooms, chairman of the Nassau ARC Chapter, announced today.

More than 5,000 families in the county suffered major losses in the storm which ripped across the island on Nov. 24, an ARC survey indicated.

As soon as the immediate task of assisting and sheltering storm refugees was completed, the Red Cross announced that anyone who needed rehabilitation help could apply at the County ARC Chapter House, 290 Old Country Road, Mineola.

Nassau Red Cross workers had launched a survey of the families of victims of the Thanksgiving Eve Long Island Rail Road wreck when the second disaster struck.

As soon as news of the worst rail disaster in the history of New York State was flashed, the Red Cross blood center in New York City notified all hospitals in the area of the wreck it had ample blood of all types to meet all needs.

A refrigeration truck, stocked with blood, was rushed to the disaster scene and toured the hospitals during the night.

"There was no shortage of Red Cross blood available to all hospitals," Ralph G. Morris, Jr., executive director of the Nassau ARC, explained. "Therefore it was not nec-

Major Taus, Of Freeport, Supplies Recreation for U. S. Troops in Japan

WITH THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION IN NORTH KOREA (Via Mail) — The little bit of recreation that comes to frontline First Cavalry Division troopers is made possible by a Freeport, N. Y., Special Service Officer, Major Maurice R. Taus.

Faced with problems of resupply, inadequate transportation, malfunction of equipment and the incessant supply of combat troops, Major Taus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Taus of 1245 Shakespeare Ave., Bronx, N. Y., nevertheless has contributed immeasurably to morale of the Division's fighting units by providing them reading material, "movies", athletic equipment, Post Exchange and luxury items.

Yet, despite this handicap, he has distributed more than 6,000 assorted magazines and books monthly to members of the command while they remained in frontline positions. On a few rare occasions when a Cavalry unit was pulled back to a rear area for a day or two, the Freeport officer has made a movie available. "We give top priority to men returning from the front line and to hospital units when we show a 'movie'," Major Taus explains. "And even though we don't have enough projectors, we try to distribute the films equally so as many men as possible get to see a show."

"Eight bulbs for the projectors are supposed to be used for ten hours but we've used them for as long as 20 hours. Then too, we sometimes have to call upon the Signal Corps and Ordnance to make and repair parts for our equipment since we can't get needed parts through normal supply channels in Korea."

Outstanding supplies is the biggest headache for the Division Special Service officer since tactical operational needs of the First Cavalry demand use of all available transportation.

"Usually, we are too forward of supply ports to pick up our equipment," Major Taus said, "but what we do get is allotted the various units on the basis of their assigned strength. When an organization has been in battle for a long while it doesn't forfeit its Special Service supplies merely because they can't be picked up. Instead, we keep such items for them until such a time when they can be made available to the fighting man."

When comedian Bob Hope and his troupe arrived in Korea they performed in the Communist capital of Pyongyang for more than 15,000 troops, most of whom were Cavalry men who are credited with capturing the city. A site for this performance was selected by Major Taus, who also had a stage erected and a loud speaking system set up. In addition, he had to supervise traffic control of thousands of troops and vehicles that streamed into the city for the show.

Mrs. Taus, the former Miss Yolanda Ruggiero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ruggiero of 16 Rose St., Freeport, is presently in Tokyo, Japan, with their two children, April 8, and Richard, 6.

The Leader Bookshelf

By MRS. ELIZABETH F. KELLY
Librarian, Freeport
Memorial Library

A basic collection of long-playing musical records, funds for which were bequeathed from the estate of the late Harry C. Fitterman, may now be borrowed from the Freeport Memorial Library. Mrs. Elizabeth F. Kelly announced this week. A listing of the gift-records appears at the end of this article.

A notice to organizations interested in applying for a $50 music-on-record grant, was published by the Fitterman Foundation last year. Mrs. Kelly and the trustees of the library returned the application. After approval from the Foundation, the Library received the benefit.

The fund was set up from the estate of Mr. Fitterman, a resident of New York City, to bring good music to people all over the country with libraries being the repository and distribution center for all the public.

The idea for such a fund must first have occurred to Mr. Fitterman when as a soldier in World War I, he missed hearing music for the first time in his life, music not having been provided for the armed services. He organized the Armed Forces Master Records, Inc., which distributed libraries of classical music for the use of servicemen everywhere.

In information supplied by Richard H. Green attorney for the trust, he states: "Mr. Fitterman did not push himself to the front in the organization. He got prominent musicians such as Toscanini and Damrosch to lend their names, and it was they who appeared on the letterhead. But Mr. Fitterman did all the work, cajoling and black-jacking record companies and distributors, organizing branches around the country and soliciting funds everywhere. He distributed about 1,500 libraries of classical music to Army, Navy, and Marine Corps posts, ships and stations all over the world."

After speaking before a Congressional Committee on the work he was doing, Mr. Fitterman was made a member of the President's committee on recreation for the Armed forces. Mr. Fitterman was not a public servant, but rather a public-minded person who brought music to millions during his lifetime and who is responsible for making music available to many more since his death.

Mr. Fitterman was a h. The following is a list of the 33 1/3 RPM records purchased by the library with the Fitterman donation:

Bach-Magical in B; Beethoven-Symphony No. 2, Bizet-Carmen Highlights, Haydn-Symphony Nos. 64 and 91, Klachaturian - Piano Concerto, Rogers and Hammerstein-Carols, Madrigals - English and American, Mendelssohn-Violin concerto Op. 64, Rimsky-Korsakoff - Scheherazade, Puccini - Madame Butterfly (complete opera), American Indian Music of the Sioux and Navaho.

SOLOISTS TO APPEAR IN SINGING OF 'MESSIAH'

Norman Hollett has announced he will use eight soloists in two performances of "The Messiah" when he leads the Long Island Choral Society in George Friedrich Handel's traditional Christmas Oratorio at the Cathedral of the Incarnation, Cathedral Ave., Garden City. At the first performance, scheduled for Wednesday night, Erna Gwiliin will sing the soprano solo, Pauline Pierce, the contralto, James Davis, the tenor, and Edward Becker, the bass.

At the second concert, scheduled for Sunday, Dec. 17th, at 4 p.m., the soloists will be Angeline Collins, soprano; Louise Lackland, contralto; John Campbell, tenor, and Paul Matthen, bass.

Monthly Meetings Proposed for Legion

Chuisano Thinks Plan Would Bring Men Out; Push Christmas Projects

A suggestion for only one meeting a month, instead of two, was made by Vice-Commander Harry J. Chuisano, at a meeting of William Clinton Story Post, A.L., Friday night in the Dugout. He said so many things were going on the members might come out more regularly if only one meeting was held. The matter was referred to the executive committee.

Plans were completed for the annual football dinner tomorrow night in the dugout for the grid squad of the Freeport High School, their coaches and other guests. The William Rayner Memorial trophy, which the Red Devils lost to Baldwin last year, will be formally presented to the undefeated Red and White eleven at the dinner.

William Stagesmaier, chairman of the committee handling the rehabilitation of toys to be distributed among needy children at the Christmas season, announced a gift of 100 toys had been received from the Liberty post. He said, however, many more articles were needed to supply the demand.

County Commander O. Howard Larsen issued an appeal for contributions to the fund for the Yanks Who Gave, of which Robert Wille is the local chairman. Christmas gifts for veterans who are patients in hospitals on Long Island are provided with this fund. They will be distributed on Saturday, Dec. 16.

Mr. Chuisano is chairman of the New Year's Eve party planned by the post. Commander Charles F. Mountcastle presided.

South Nassau to Stage 22d Anniversary Jamboree

South Nassau Communities Hospital has taken over the Georgian Room, ballroom, dining room, Palm Lounge and Colonnade of the Garden City Hotel Saturday night for the institution's 22d anniversary jamboree.

bore chairman, while Cyril O. Ryan is the vice-chairman. The jamboree program includes: music by Victor, with three orchestras and a strolling trio; a Christmas party, with carols by the famed 50-voice South-Shore Glee Club; an entertainment program featuring video, radio, stage and screen stars, and bridge and canasta in the card room. Guests of honor will be officials and workers of the Hospital's $1,250,000 expansion fund program campaign, which is getting close to fifty percent of its goal. The official South Nassau "hospital family" is sponsoring the jamboree, including the institution's administrative staff, medical staff, the Baldwin Junior Auxiliary and the Auxiliaries of Baldwin, Bellmore, East Rockaway, Freeport, and the Freeport Junior Auxiliary, Lynbrook, Malverne, Merrick, Oceanside, Rockville Centre, Seaford and Valley Stream.

OUR TOUGHEST 100 HOURS

The "big blow" of November 25th caused great disruption to our power lines on Long Island. Yet, electric service was back to substantially 100% normal in 100 hours. In 1938 it required 10 days, and in 1944 a full week to get all our customers back in service following similar hurricanes. Incidentally, this year's storm was the worst of the three.

There were many things which made this achievement possible. Our planned program for emergencies provided immediate action. Our new Port Jefferson electric plant was on the job to deliver more power where needed; large, modern substations permitted the quick switching of loads. Our short wave radio system kept line crews rolling from job to job; new methods of emergency line repairs got Circuits back in operation more quickly. Additional line crews were flown in from outside areas in specially chartered planes.

More important than all these modern machines and equipment was the devotion to duty of thousands of our employees—linemen, engineers, switchboard operators, office employees, meter readers, executives, and many others who worked long hours, often "around the clock," to see that you were back in service as quickly as possible. These were the folks who made this accomplishment possible.

To the public officials, the Army and police and fire departments who assisted us . . . to our thousands of customers who patiently cooperated with us . . . we extend our sincere gratitude.

SO, WE HAVE CUT OUR RECOVERY TIME FROM DISRUPTIVE STORM DAMAGE TO 100 HOURS!
WE HOPE OUR NEXT CONTEST WITH NATURE
MAY BE A LONG WAY OFF.

Yule Packages For Distant Friends Should Be Mailed Out Immediately

Finish your Christmas shopping for distant friends quickly and get the packages in the mail. That's the urgent plea of Postmaster Mary E. Bannon.

All Christmas parcels for distant States should be in the mail tomorrow, the Postmaster says. Packages for nearby points should be posted by December 9 to ensure delivery before Christmas.

December 16 is the suggested date for out-of-State Christmas cards, and a week before Christmas for last-minute local greetings.

"If everyone waits and the mailings all come in together at the last minute, we will be swamped," Mrs. Bannon said. "In addition to heavy Christmas mailings, the post office must handle the regular mailings including increased commercial shipments at this time of year."

The Postmaster advised that post office windows are most crowded at lunch time and late in the afternoon. She recommends mailing packages before 9 a.m. and between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. to avoid long lines and aching feet.

The Postmaster renewed her appeal that packages be wrapped securely, using stiff corrugated fiberboard, strong outer paper, and heavy twine. Fragile items must be individually cushioned in a strong box to prevent breakage.

A package isn't properly wrapped to withstand the Christmas rush unless it can be tumbled down a chute, tossed some distance into a mail sack, and then have other loaded mail sacks piled on top of it.

Physicians to Dine With Newspaper Men

More than fifty Nassau newsmen and physicians are expected to attend the first press luncheon of the Nassau County Medical Society Monday, Dr. Walter Cane, chairman of the Society's Public Relations Committee, announced today.

The event will be held at noon at Felle's Restaurant in Westbury. Dr. Cane indicated that the luncheon would be an informal affair. "Our main purpose in holding the luncheon," he said, "is to provide an opportunity for medical men and members of the newspaper profession to discuss their common interests and problems. Every opportunity to exchange ideas is beneficial. We hope that this mission will prove informative as well as informal."

Chief and only speaker will be Merrill Eisenbud, Director of the Division of Health and Safety, New York Operations Office of the Atomic Energy Commission. He will discuss the latest developments in his field.

Scanning The Sports Scene

BY DICK SCHAPP

Basketball season is rolling into high gear now with most of the local scholastic fives having seen action. Freeport inaugurated its campaign on Tuesday against Mineola.

We're going to go out on a limb and make some predictions on the coming basketball campaign. First, we nominate Freeport as champions of Section One of the S.S.A.L. with the chief competition coming from Mepham and Sewanhaka. We like Long Beach to cop Section Two on the South Shore. Moving over to the N.S.A.L., we favor Hicksville in the Western Division and Garden City in the Eastern Division.

Now, we'll compile a list of players to watch during the coming season. Freeport's top three men should be crafty Dave Pearsall, speedy Freddy Fellman, and towering Jay Schmidt. Mepham is paced by deadeye Bob Meyer, Bob Burkhardt and Larry Assmus. Sewanhaka has a trio of formidable in Chris Harris, Al Pugliese and Vin Kelly. Bill O'Brien and Denny Miller spearhead the Baldwin offense.

In Section Two, the key men are Long Beach's Dick Schapp, Don Walters, Tom DeLuca, and Harry Sachs. Lynbrook lists big Richie Reinhard as a leading scoring threat. On the North Shore, Hicksville sports a pair of scoring stars in Dick Alcock and Harry O'Mack. Oyster Bay's Reggie Giddens, Bobby Van Velsor and Whitey Szec will prove troublesome for any opponent. Roslyn's Gallone, Farmingdale's Charlie Finer, and Manhasset's Jim Brown are all scholastic hopefuls. St. Paul's Jack Sheehy and Chaminade's Larry McCoy are the top independent hoopssters.

Tomorrow night, Freeport faces a strong Garden City quintet that has been tabbed as one of the leading aggregations on the North Shore. The Trojans are sparked by Jay Norton, Bill Martin and Mort Chute. Custer and Bill round out the starting five.

Coach Harry Eberhart of Freeport is expected to counter with Pearsall, Fellman, Schmidt and John Morgan. The fifth standing post appears to be a toss-up between Dave Jones, Joe Antrous and Al Scoplinch. All of these players, with the exception of Scoplinch, have considerable varsity experience to combat the visitors. Freeport is out to avenge a 55-48 setback suffered last year at the hands of the Trojans.

Next Tuesday afternoon, the Red Devils will meet Great Neck in their third consecutive home engagement. The Blazers have a vastly improved squad led by Reagan and Rappoport. Freeport trounced Great Neck 50-28 last year.

Any basketball team in the 15-18 age limit that is interested in joining a basketball league may do so by contacting me at Freeport 9-9773 between 6 and 8 p.m.

As soon as the high school basketball schedules are available, we will start predicting the results of the basketball encounters. As a starter, we'll pick Freeport over Garden City and also over Great Neck.

ALUMNI NEWS. From the grapevine, we hear that Bill Dodd is a member of the starting five at Colgate Reports also state that Dodd clocked for 13 points in his varsity at the University of Vermont. Both of these boys were members of the S.S.A.L. championship squad of 1948-49.

Of the starting five that year, Dodd is at Colgate, Jimmy Nelson and Don Fellman are in the U.S. Army, Jack Plunkett is a freshman at Hofstra but is not playing basketball, and Pearsall is still a terrific flash in high school. Of the key substitutes, three are still playing for Freeport in the person of Schmidt, Fellman and Jones. Among the other replacements, Shaffer is at Vermont, Greg Merhige made varsity last year at High Point, Pete Lampasona attends Hofstra, Ed Morant is working in Freeport, and Al Harris, although still in school, has dropped basketball because of injuries.

Jeffrey Creamer Appears In Shubert School Play
Jeffrey Creamer, a Freeport pupil was in the cast of "Tommy's Adventures" a play produced by the pupils of Miss Kathryn Jureiditch's third grade class at a chapel program in the Shubert School, Baldwin, last Thursday. The play deals with the escapades of a school boy who is bent on playing truant.

H. C. Bohack to Open Largest Store in Chain

The largest super market of the H. C. Bohack Co. will be opened today in Hempstead's new Drive-In Shopping Center at Greenwiche and Henry sts., two blocks south of Hempstead High School.

Completely modern in every detail, from air conditioning to sprinkler-fireproofing, the market has 13,500 square feet of selling space and many innovations in food store merchandising. Among its features are large front and rear parking areas, with accommodations for more than 350 automobiles. There are 13 checkout counters, five in the front of the market and six in the rear.

To celebrate the opening of the Hempstead store, the Bohack Co. will give away Princess Aloha double orchid corsages to the first 5,000 women who visit the market. Many other prizes will be offered today, tomorrow and Saturday, and several radio and television stars will visit the store during the opening week-end. Among them will be Tex and Jinx McCrary, who will be there at 10:30 this morning, and Mary Margaret McBride, who will visit the market at 4 P.M.

Refrigerated service and self-service vegetable sections, 48 feet of self-service meat counter, 32 feet of frozen food cases, a glass enclosed meat packaging room, wide spacious aisles and large dairy, bakery, candy and grocery sections are among the store's highlights. Several self-service grocery "islands" are 66 feet long, and foods are grouped in "family" sections to speed marketing.

Charles Kaczorowski, has been named as grocery manager of the new store, and Mario Martino, heads the meat department. When the Hempstead market opens, it will be the 33rd Bohack Store in the Town of Hempstead, fast-growing section of Nassau County. H. C. Bohack Co., Inc., established in Brooklyn in 1887, now has a total of 280 stores in Brooklyn and Long Island.

Theatre Project Group to Entertain

Guests of the official family of South Nassau Communities Hospital attending the 22d anniversary jamboree in Garden City Hotel next Saturday night, will be entertained in the Georgian Room at 10 o'clock by a group of 18 talented youngsters, members of the performing troupe of the Children's Theatre Project of Freeport. Chairman of the affair is George Morton Levy, with Cyril O. Ryan as vice-chairman.

Children's Theatre performers have twice before bent their efforts to swell the building fund of the Hospital—first last March, when the entire proceeds of the spring show in the Columbus Avenue School auditorium were donated to the Building Fund through the Freeport Auxiliary. And again on Oct. 15, when they entertained at the tea and fashion show given at Sardi's in Rockville Centre by the nursing staff. Highlight of the Sardi's performance was a parody,

Christ Lutheran Drama Guild Makes Good In Original Musical Comedy

"Cupid Takes a Holiday," an original two-act musical comedy by Robert Browne and Adele Smith, the coach, was presented by the Drama Guild of Christ Lutheran Church as its 1950 dramatic effort in the auditorium of the Seaman ave. school, and was well received by the large audience.

Mr. Brown and Mrs. Smith wrote a rather long plot around a score of old time and recent popular songs to make an entertaining evening.

During Act I, called "A Street in Old New York," the song numbers were "The Old New York," "Get Yourself a Broom," "It's a Big Wide Wonderful World," "Let's Take an Old Fashioned Walk," "Mean to Me," "I Hate Men," "A Fine Romance This Is," "Everybody Has a Made but Me," "Tina, a Floradora Baby," "Baby Face," "Why Don't You Fall in Love With Me," and "I Used to Love You but It's All Over Now."

"The Garden of the Hawkins' Home," was the theme of the second act. The songs were "Dearie," "Heartaches," "Girl on the Police Gazette," "I'm Sorry Dear," "Crushing Down the River," "I Wonder Whose Kissing Her Now," "Papa Won't You Dance with Me?" "I Wanta Go Home," "I'm in Love with a Wonderful Guy," and "Pretty Baby."

Principals in the cast were Alice Thelms, Herbert Thelms, Robert Browne, Margaret Berns, Gertrude Brummer, Lawrence Shade, Ingeborg Browne, Paul Becker, Otto J. Christ, Cecelia Becker, John Cramer and Paul Becker, Jr. Everyone appeared in a song number of some sort with other specialties.

In the chorus were Adelaide Dierking, Dorothy Blums, Dorothy Bishoff, Margaret Hoeneker, June Lieber, Charles Smith, John Grammer, Herbert Paulson, Richard Serrey, Charles Kehm, Estelle Kehm, Margaret Bauer, Tomi Finkenstadt and Doris Chablain.

Billy Blume, Jr., was in charge of scenery, with William Finkenstadt.

Stadium Receipts For 1950 Will Be Close to 1949 Total

Latest Report Shows $57,120.42 Against Last Year's $61,206

Despite the dwindling interest in midweek car racing, which reduced the attendance at these events during the season just closed with a consequent reduction in revenue, receipts at the Municipal Stadium for the fiscal year 1950-51 will be but slightly less than they were for the previous twelve months.

At the end of October receipts had totaled $57,120.42 against a total of $61,206.34 for 1949-50, a difference of $4,085.92. This difference will be somewhat reduced when the final figures are in, Milford F. Van Riper, the village comptroller said, but not enough to bring the receipts up to those of last year. Also a year ago the racing season was extended into November while this year the final events were held in October.

During October one night of midweek racing netted $319.69, four nights of stock car racing, $1,010.91, football $25, television rights $540.00, concessions, $963.36 and other items $112.50 for a total of $2,971.46. Attendance at all events totaled 16,626, including 3,235 at midweek, 10,914 at the "stock" and 2,508 at football games.

Various events during the season extending from May through October attracted 293,154 paying customers, the figures by months being as follows: May 36,323; June 66,823; July 67,000; August 58,297; September 60,831; and October 18,626.

Receipts by months were as follows: May, $7,766.23; June, $12,725.50; July, $13,087.13; August, $11,731.08; September, $8,859.49; and October, $2,971.46.

Receipts from the stadium will help to reduce next year's budget.

The second girls' sports season at Freeport High School has just begun. The girls are bowling and playing table tennis under the direction of Miss Dorothy Clark and volleyball under the direction of Miss Carol Knapp. Table tennis and volleyball ball practice are held each Tuesday and Thursday in the gym, while bowling is on Wednesday at the Baldwin Modern Alley, Baldwin.

The bowling group rolls two games a week for sixteen weeks. A personal average is kept for each girl from which the honor team is chosen.

Table tennis is an individual sport in which each girl competes for points. A tournament is run off and the top scorers comprise the honor team.

Jewish Women to Hear Of U.N. Work for Children

Mrs. Helen Matousek, acting liaison officer of the United Nations at a meeting of the East Nassau Section, National Council of Jewish Women, to be held Wednesday at 1 p.m., in Temple B'nai Israel.

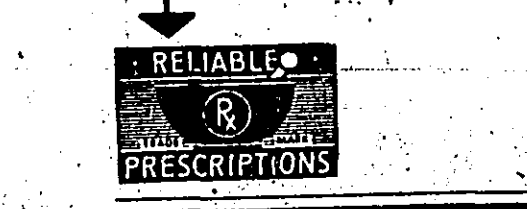

Mrs. Matousek, a native of Czechoslovakia, studied at Charles University in Prague. In her social problems field newspaper work she visited many countries in Europe and Asia. She became interested in refugee problems and organized the Czech Relief Agency for political refugees from Germany and Austria. Shortly before Pearl Harbor Mrs. Matousek came to the United States and worked with the late President's Benevolent Czechoslovakian Government Information on Service. She joined UNRRA and worked with the displaced persons program in Germany. In her personal contacts with uprooted, war-torn and thwarted war victims she realized the importance of rehabilitation. In these words she expresses her deepest impression:

"There is no hope for peace and a decent world if you let children grow up in ruins and misery, because they will grow up to hate everything that is dear to us and to suspect and distrust everyone who knows of their plight and does not extend a helping hand."
